

Why Should I Consider Forming a Company?

Once you have decided that you want to start your own business, you will need to decide which business structure is best for you and your potential trading activity. Many people choose to form a private limited company as this can have advantages from a tax, risk and commercial perspective.

Incorporating a Limited Company is a big step to take so you should ensure that incorporating a company is right for you. All directors, secretaries and shareholders will have responsibilities when the company has been incorporated so you should make sure you are aware of these before proceeding.

Information Required

Setting up a limited company is relatively straightforward and you will need some basic details to start the process, including:

- Company name
- Director's details
- Share information
- Company secretary's details
- Registered office address

How Can Wisteria Help?

Wisteria is the parent company of Wisteria Formations, the UK's leading company formation agent. Wisteria Formation's innovative and easy to use website guides you through the process of forming your company, whilst the UK customer support team can help you with the process if required.

In addition, Wisteria Chartered Accountants offer a wide range of additional services after the formation of your company, including accounting, tax and business planning advice.

To form your company, visit:

www.wisteriaformations.co.uk

Customer Support Team: 0844 893 0808

